Come and join us for a “Drawn to the Word” worship and artistic experience where Artist and Pastor Paul Oman will paint two larger-than-life sized murals before your eyes.

Sunday, November 20, 2016 9:15 & 10:35 Services
This story will unfold artistically, musically, narratively and scripturally during the event. Mark your calendar now. You won’t want to miss this special worship opportunity.

DRAWN TO THE WORD is the artistic ministry and mission of Paul Oman, pastor and professional artist. Paul creates larger-than-life sized murals of any Bible story or theme in less than an hour as audiences are engaged by watching the process. The Biblical story comes to life before your eyes, impacting lives and congregations in profound ways.

To see a story created on canvas before your eyes is a unique and powerful experience which brings people of all ages and denominations together.

Paul Oman, artist and pastor, shares his artistic ministry with audiences ecumenically across the country. He served as science teacher, then Lutheran pastor when, in 2011, he took up work as an artistic pastor full-time. Paul seeks to give new vision to God’s Word by using the process of painting to captivate audiences in our visually oriented culture. Receiving national & international recognition in 2010, 2013 & 2015 for his work in watercolor, Paul uses this gift to proclaim the Gospel in a unique and powerful way that impacts lives and inspires mission. The larger-than-life sized murals are painted with acrylics.

Paul lives near Amery, Wisconsin with his wife, Jana, and their children, Tommy, Kelsey, and Emily.
Go. It is probably the most overlooked word in what has come to be known as the Great Commission. We hear, “Go!” and our immediate response is, “If people want to come, we’re here!” We are a welcoming place! And for the most part Our Saviour’s is. But, being welcoming is the 3rd step. And being welcoming alone is increasingly missing the point. If Jesus were here, I suspect that he might ask, “What part of “Go!” did you not understand?”

Before you think that I am scolding you, it is as much a problem for the church staff and myself as it is for the people in the pews. Part of the reason for that is how the church is structured and functions. For many years, the society, and family life supported the church. Increasingly, that is changing, and the church has been slow to adapt.

But, that is only part of the story. There is another part, more difficult to acknowledge. Speaking to people about our faith is something that is just plain difficult for most of us to do. We tend to be very shy when it comes to our faith. There are a number of reasons for this:

• We don’t want to be that guy! You know the one the tries to push a particular kind of faith down someone’s throat.

• Society and work has strong taboos against talk about faith. Religion is Okay if it remains a private matter. What’s the old adage? Avoid religion and politics in polite conversation.

• We are all that sure how to navigate the two issues I just mentioned, and the church has done a poor job of training people how to do it. (BTW, I will be offering a new course in the fall to look at this!)

• We point fingers rather than taking responsibility. Lay people say, “It’s the pastor’s and staff’s job!” Pastor’s and staff say, “It’s the lay people’s job!” Come on people, it’s all of our jobs and we need to take responsibility for our part.

There is a Facebook site I like called Clergy Coaching Network. In an article, by Thom S. Rainer, referred to on the site, Thom provides some food for thought for how we begin to become more outwardly focused and take more seriously, “Go!” He writes:

I began asking leaders in outwardly focused churches about their practical steps. I made certain the leaders were in different size congregations lest I offer suggestions limited to one group of churches. The leaders were in churches with worship attendance ranging from 50 to 2,500.

The answers I received were immensely practical, very helpful, and highly doable. Though this list is by no means exhaustive, here are seven of the more common habits:

1. The church takes time during each worship service to pray for the community. Prayer is powerful; and the church members become more focused about their communities.

2. A volunteer or staff person is accountable for the outreach ministry of the church. If no one has leadership responsibility, it does not get done.

3. A regular report is provided to church members about outreach and ministry efforts in the community. What gets reported gets done. Have you noticed most churches provide financial reports to the church members? That says the money is important. We need at least equal emphasis on the importance of outreach ministries.

4. Churches have regular “mystery” guests come to the worship services. One church leader told me that his church...
Financial Update
by Pastor Menke

Ministry Needs/Operating Funds
Year-to-Date giving in July was -0.5% or $2,831.00 less than last year. However, giving outpaced spending by $6,214.00. This is largely in part due to savings from the staff vacancy in the third pastor position and should not be considered a long-term situation. The vacancy is giving us an opportunity to “catch up” on the budget from the beginning of the year and the loss we experienced with Easter falling on Spring Break this year. Thank you for your financial support and please keep the ministry needs of Our Saviour’s in your prayers.

Giving through July 15, 2015 $519,099
Giving through July 16, 2016 $516,268
Total (less) Giving ($    2,831)

Special Appeal

• If you have been by the church recently you know that the parking lot is finished. The regrading should end any issues we had with run off and make ice build-up less of an issue in the winter.

• In addition, we have locked in a bid for the elevator upgrade required by the elevator inspector. That work should begin soon. We are being told it will be completed by the start of our fall programming.

These two major expenses have necessitated the church taking a loan for $180,000. The loan, together with donations to the special appeal this year, has provided enough funding so that we have not had to dip into our funding in order to ensure payment to the contractors. Thank you for your financial support in assisting us to take on these two substantial facility needs.

Giving to the Special Appeal Year in July $4,155.00

Staffing Update

First and most important, many of you already may have heard – Pastor Kelli is pregnant. Kelli also tells us that Jesse has a job for the fall with Lutherdale Bible Camp near Elkhorn, WI which is about an hour from Milwaukee. He will be the Development Director there.

The Staffing and Governance Committee has recommended and the church council has approved a job description for a Children, Youth and Family Director. This position is a full time lay position. We are hoping to find someone with some background and training in Children, Youth and Family ministry. This position is intended to be highly relational and focused on youth and family ministry. If you know anyone who may be interested, please have them contact Pastor Menke, the church office or www.osel.org/employment/.

asks someone in the community to be a mystery guest every quarter. Those guests are always first-time guests, and they share their experiences with leaders later that day or week. The church members thus get to see the worship services through the eyes of a community member.

5. The church gives obsessive attention to their websites. A church website is the new front door for churches. It’s almost always the first place prospective guests go. These websites should be designed in a very guest friendly way.

6. The churches are intentional about scheduling ministries, events, and activities for reaching the community. One pastor told me that his church always focuses on one key community outreach ministry per month. The church’s attendance is less than 80, but it was under 40 two years ago.

7. Churches are intentional about connecting with their communities through social media. It is mind-boggling that we have the most pervasive form of communication in history, but very few churches use it strategically. I know a pastor in a rural community who worked with a Millennial and asked her to lead the social media outreach. It has been a great success because someone is responsible for it.

The last words of the Great Commission are: “Lo, I am with you always.” We also need to take these words seriously as we contemplate stepping into what has been unfamiliar and less charted water in how we do church, and how we express our faith outside of church. We can have courage to address change and courage to adapt new ways of living in the world if we not only take seriously, “Go!” but also “I am with you always.”
